Are you prepared for a D&O lawsuit?

Regardless of your company's size, there's always a chance that litigation could arise from the management decisions of your board members. We can help you craft a directors and officers (D&O) insurance plan to protect your company and give you the insight needed to ensure the longevity of your business if a lawsuit occurs.

DIRECTORS & OFFICERS COVERAGE BASICS

Using documents from our Coverage Insights and Management File series, you will gain a better understanding of D&O policies. Also, these documents outline essential considerations, such as common pitfalls and exclusions.

RISK MITIGATION TOOLS

Every decision a company's directors and officers make has the potential to be scrutinized by clients, employees, shareholders, and other directors and officers. As such, it's essential to know how to manage D&O risks to avoid costly litigation. Use our Risk Insights documents to learn all about the unique exposures that could impact your directors and officers.

RISK ANALYSIS SCORECARDS

Claims against directors and officers are becoming increasingly common. The cost of defending a D&O claim can run well into the six figures, leaving a business insolvent. Using our scorecards, you can gain a better understanding of the level of risk your business's directors and officers face daily. Using this information, you can build a plan of attack to protect the livelihood of your company and its leadership team.
